

Lawrence Bizjak is a Managing Director and co-head of real estate at Garrison Investment Group. Garrison makes credit and asset-based investments across commercial real estate, corporate and financial asset sectors. With a team of 35 professionals, Garrison has been actively making investments in the current market environment. Based in New York, Mr. Bizjak oversees a team responsible for the acquisition origination, and execution of high yield and distressed commercial real estate investments. Currently, the real estate group is a buyer of performing, sub-performing and non-performing mortgages, B-notes and mezzanine debt. The firm invests nationwide in all property types. During his 20-year career, Mr. Bizjak has been involved in billions of dollars of real estate transactions. Mr. Bizjak graduated from Cornell University and is a CFA charterholder.

Garrison Investment Group

Garrison Investment Group makes credit and asset-based investments with attractive risk adjusted returns. Our experienced team of 35 professionals enables our investment group to source and execute transactions across corporate, real estate, and financial assets. Garrison Investment Group invests predominantly in loans, securities and asset purchases, and are actively making investments in the current market environment.